

THE GHERKIN AND ITS NEIGHBOURS: A CITY WALK AND BARBEQUE
TUESDAY 7 SEPTEMBER 2010 AT 6.00PM
Start point: Tower Hill Tube Station (District & Circle Lines)

The Worshipful
Company of Arbitrators

This fascinating walk will be led by Paul Taylor who is both an architect (and the lead architect on the Broadgate Development) and a City of London Blue Badge Guide.

We start out from TOWER HILL TUBE STATION looking at the Roman Walls of Londinium and then come forward in time to see some of the finest modern buildings in the City.

We shall gain an appreciation of the complexity of modern construction and of the extraordinary variety of recent developments. We will finish at the Broadgate complex with a brief description of its history.

Finally we adjourn to Exchange Square for a barbeque and a glass of wine.

The cost of this fascinating and unusual evening will be £28.50 per person. Spaces will be allocated on a 'first come' basis and so please book early and in any event by 21 August.
